IBFAN Asia Pacific: Narrative Annual Report 2005

The annual report 2005 is a part of the IBFAN Asia Pacific’s Strategic plan 2003-2007. The report is a continuation of 2004 and is based on our operational plan of 2005, which was developed with inputs from the region and it also forms the basis of our evaluation.

Highlights of the year 2005

   Tracking, Assessing and Monitoring (TAM) system for assessment of the Global Strategy for Infant and Young Child Feeding

IBFAN Asia Pacific has launched the World Breastfeeding Trends Initiative (WBTi) during the South Asia Breastfeeding Partners Forum-2 in Kathmandu. Now it is being made suitable for a world-wide launch. This is the flagship programme for IBFAN Asia Pacific. It is designed to assist countries in assessing the achievements and gaps in their policies and programs to protect, promote and support optimal infant and young child feeding practices based on national level study, discussion and analysis which is accomplished by team of partners. Gaps thus identified are used for developing recommendations and advocacy to strengthen programs. WBTi thus helps in formulating plans of action that are effective to improve infant and young child feeding practices and guide allocation of resources. Thus WBTi is A: Action-It is an initiative to stimulate action; B: Bringing people together to develop partnerships; C: Consensus building and commitment between partners on different programs; D: Demonstration of achievements and gaps in different policies and programs and E: Efficacy, improving program- After identifying the gaps, it helps in improving the policies and programs. In addition to the above, www.worldbreastfeedingtrends.org will be the largest web portal of database on practices, policies and programs on infant and young child feeding. Anybody can visit the web and see the profile of any country that have opted to participate. The results can be viewed and used by governments, donors, advocacy groups, researchers and media wanting to take action on infant and young child feeding issues. They can see which programs to strengthen and where to put more resources. Thus, this can prove to be a very useful resource on the web for policy makers and program managers. The initiative aims at improving standards of care in the health care system.

2. Fifteen countries conduct assessment of the status of the Global Strategy for infant and young child feeding

Using the WBTi all eight South Asian countries (Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, Sri Lanka, Nepal, India, Maldives and Pakistan), 4 from East Asia (Taiwan, Japan, Mongolia, China), and 3 from Southeast Asia (Vietnam, Malaysia, Philippines) took part in the national assessment of the status of Global Strategy for Infant and Young Child Feeding. Response was particularly overwhelming in South Asia where governments, NGOs, professional bodies, civil society groups and individuals joined in a team effort that led to such assessment. Each of the 8 countries presented their reports on the existing gaps at the South Asia Breastfeeding Partners Forum and these reports formed the basis of Report Card “State of Worlds Breastfeeding: South Asia 2005”. These reports and analysis can be viewed at the web portal www.worldbreastfeedingtrends.org and it is under print for dissemination. This action is already showing tremendous local response in terms of countries bridging gaps on IYCF policy and programme.

After a successful Forum 1 in Dhaka, and as a part of South Asia plan to strengthen national focal points, and organise this event annually, the IBFAN Asia Pacific, along with the UNICEF ROSA hosted the South Asia Breastfeeding Partners Forum-2 in Kathmandu, Nepal from 26-28 October 2005. The Nepal Breastfeeding Promotion Forum (NEBPROF) acted as local host and organised it. Highlight of the forum was official participation by 5 governments from among the SAARC nations. It brought together 70 participants from 8 countries of South Asia. They represented governments, IBFAN, WABA, UNICEF, UNAIDS, media, professional bodies, institutions, international organisations and NGOs. The theme of this forum was ‘Ensure Exclusive Breastfeeding: Save Newborn Lives’. The Global Strategy for infant and young child feeding was central to it and participants presented the status of Global Strategy in their respective countries. Four resource persons from media interacted with participants to strengthen our links with them. Each country developed their action plans for the year 2006. Some of these future plans include; Afghanistan plans to form a national partnership on breastfeeding, Bangladesh plans more work on the national Code, Bhutan plans to review national breastfeeding policy, India plans training programs for different categories of health workers, Nepal plans advocacy for higher authorities, Pakistan plans training for health personnel and Maldives plans to identify IBFAN focal point and redraft the Code in harmony with WHA resolution 2005 (including issues like sponsorship). Finally, ten recommendations towards achieving the MDGs especially the MDG-4 were adopted unanimously during the closing session. Afghanistan proposed to host South Asia Breastfeeding Partners Forum-3 in Afghanistan in October 2006 and everyone welcomed this proposal. The report of the South Asia Breastfeeding Partners Forum 2 is available on http://www.ibfan-asiapacific.org/SABPF-II%20(Report).pdf.

4. HIV Infant feeding work strengthened further

- IBFAN Asia Pacific initiates a Working Group on Infant feeding and HIV
  IBFAN Asia Pacific has constituted a Working Group (WG) on HIV and Infant feeding. Following are some of the objectives with which this WG works:
  - Updating and Information Exchange
  - Contributing to developments of key documents
  - Promotion of UN Framework for Priority Action on HIV and Infant Feeding
  - Linking with WABA’s task force on HIV and Infant feeding
  - Providing inputs into global agenda
Promoting national actions on HIV and infant feeding

So far, there are 22 members from 8 countries of IBFAN Asia Pacific on this WG, which is co-ordinated by the Regional Coordinator and Dr J.P. Dadhich from India has been appointed the co-coordinator of this WG. In 2005, he undertook following activities:

- Facilitated an assessment of status of HIV and infant feeding in select 5 countries of Asia Pacific region and developed a report for presentation at international forum.
- Shared relevant information and documents on e-mail with working group members and other experts throughout the year.
- Participated in various international and national conferences and meetings as an expert and made presentations on the issue.
- Networked and participated in advocacy meetings with various agencies including international donors e.g. Sida.
- Participated in review meeting of IBFAN Asia pacific managing committee and made presentation of future plans.
- Prepared drafts of various documents on HIV and infant feeding including position statement on HIV and infant feeding and simple guidelines for the policy/programme persons, and question answer book for counsellors.

- Five countries do Rapid Assessment of HIV and Infant feeding

In collaboration and supported by WABA, during the first half of 2005, national IBFAN contacts in Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Indonesia, Malaysia and Nepal helped to assess HIV and infant feeding work in their countries. IBFAN Asia Pacific provided a background paper with objectives and processes along with a structured questionnaire. Key objectives included sharing updates, and building solidarity and partnerships at national level. This was successfully achieved. They did it through organizing meetings with the partners, which included local governments, UNICEF, UNAIDS, WHO, DFID, UNFPA, UNDP, USAID, local NGOs and health professional bodies. These assessments revealed that there were significant gaps in the national programs on HIV/AIDS as far as infant feeding is concerned. While in Afghanistan, Bangladesh and Nepal the national policy on HIV and Infant feeding was not in place but in Indonesia and Malaysia the national policy recommends artificial feeding assuming their countries fulfil the AFASS criteria. All countries lacked the capacity for providing counselling on infant feeding options. This report is available http://www.ibfan-asiapacific.org/img/Reportof5CountryonRapidjune%202005.pdf and hard copies can be made available on request.

- Inputs at the International Symposium on Breastfeeding and HIV & AIDS

The Regional Coordinator participated in the Symposium on Breastfeeding and HIV & AIDS from 30 June to 2 July 2005 at Washington, USA. La Leche League International (LLLl) and the World Alliance for Breastfeeding Action (WABA) jointly sponsored the symposium with the theme “Breastfeeding – Guarding Maternal & Child Health in an HIV & AIDS World”. The RC presented the 5-country report on ‘Rapid Assessment of HIV and Infant Feeding’ conducted by IBFAN Asia Pacific, and this was much appreciated. All participants wished if such an exercise could be repeated in all countries at national level.

5. Regional Inputs for international agenda

- Inputs provided at the 58th World Health Assembly
  The Regional Coordinator, Dr. Caleb Otto Senator from Palau, Dr. Prakash Shrestha IBFAN Focal Point Nepal participated in the 58th WHA at Geneva from May 13 to May 25th 2005 and provided strong inputs into the 58.32 resolution.

- Inputs provided at the Regional meeting on Child Health, Development and Survival: 7th Ministerial Conference on Children, Cambodia, March 2005
  The Regional Coordinator was invited to participate in the two preparatory meetings organized by the EAPRO/UNICEF regional office in December 2004 and February 2005. Strong advocacy about the Global Strategy with the international NGO groups and government participants at these two meetings saw the Child Survival agenda strengthened in the programme. During the 7th East Asia and Pacific Ministerial Consultation held at Cambodia in March 2005, 220 participants from 31 countries of EAPRO region took part. The regional coordinator provided key inputs at the conference relating to child survival theme. He prepared a special paper for sharing with participants “Achieving MDGs: Invest more in infancy and prevent child malnutrition and deaths” and “Tackling Obesity in its Infancy”. He also shared several other advocacy materials including, Lancet child survival series action sheets developed by BPNI/IBFAN, and the result was the ‘Siem Reap Declaration’ (Annex) adopted by consensus, which included ‘promotion of exclusive breastfeeding for the first six months’, as a part of commitment of the governments. UNICEF EAPRO provided strategy papers for the region. Infant and Young Child Feeding especially exclusive breastfeeding has been reflected very clearly in these documents and interventions included implementing the Code and the Global Strategy. Impact of our advocacy work was explicit when the Regional Adviser Health and Nutrition UNICEF EAPRO said to me, “This was only possible because of your interventions”. IBFAN Asia Pacific also was a part of 7 NGOs who made a statement at the meeting. The Regional Coordinator also provided media interviews.

- Participation at WABA’s Global Breastfeeding Partners Meeting (GBPM) IV
  The RC participated in the GBPM IV from 1-3 September 2005 at Penang. He presented the WBTi online and demonstrated how countries can fill their data and see the scores on the web with colour bar graphs and maps. It can be used globally by translating the questionnaire in local language. Everybody appreciated the efforts of Regional Coordinating Office IBFAN Asia Pacific for this endeavour.

6. IBFAN in politics! Strong connections with The First Lady of Timor Leste

Mrs. Kirsty Sword Gusmao represented at the Cambodia meeting one among the 7 NGOs, and provided wonderful environment to the conference and exclusively breastfed her 4-month-old baby during the entire conference. One could not expect a better reminder to politicians and civil servants,
UN agencies sitting in the meeting what breastfeeding means. She asked to take her pictures while breastfeeding her son and use them for campaign.

7. Strengthened sub regions

All four sub regions have been working almost independently and flexibly with support of the RCO. There has been reasonable progress in each of sub regions ably led by the representatives. Many new contacts have been established.

- Pacific

  New Zealand gets the Infant Feeding Association of New Zealand (IFANZ), and the regional representative has worked hard on this sustainable initiative to build public pressures for implementing the Code and the Global Strategy for infant and young child feeding. This will also serve as regional coordination for the Pacific regional IBFAN work. A Pacific Breastfeeding partner’s forum is now on way in June 2006. Pacific regional work achievements include strengthening linkages with other movements particularly human rights one that led to a recommendation to modify the Human rights Law to address breastfeeding rights of women. They also did monitoring to expose what infant formula companies are doing, to draw the attention of the government to implement Code more seriously than to rest on industry promoted Code. Attention to BFHI and HIV and infant feeding been enhanced.

- Southeast Asia

  They continue to work on indigenous complementary foods and is planning to organise sharing workshop for all national groups who are currently working on testing the guidelines in 5 countries. New actions include strengthening Code work in Philippines, developing network of breastfeeding partners in Philippines, initiating new actions in Myanmar, Malaysia, Vietnam, Timor and Thailand. New links have been developed with trade union leaders to advocate for maternity protection.

- East Asia

  They organized seminars on infant and young child feeding in China, Mongolia and Japan. These led to widespread interest among public interest groups. They also organised Code workshops in Korea, Parliamentarians meeting in Korea. Dialogue with 5 national contact points helped further actions such as Mogolia passed their law in the Parliament.

- South Asia

  They organised the Forum 2 in Kathmandu, and provided support to national initiatives. South Asia conducted national assessment of all 8 countries and all presented it at the Forum 2. Developed materials on exclusive breastfeeding campaign including a breastfeeding calendar 2006.
8. Regional Coordination

Regional Coordination has been fairly effective. Regional Coordinator reviews work plans on almost daily basis and takes monthly meetings for review of the operational plan. Quarterly reports along with financial reports are shared with the managing committee of IBFAN Asia Pacific and programme reporting is regularly done on six monthly basis for DGIS, and annually for Sida. IBFAN Asia Pacific also prepares an annual report of work for wider sharing.

The Managing Committee of IBFAN Asia Pacific is the decision making body of the IBFAN Asia Pacific Council. It is equivalent to the Advisory Committee or Consultative Committee of other IBFAN regions. The four Regional Representatives (RRs) of South Asia, Southeast Asia, East Asia and Pacific are the members of the managing committee. The managing committee met in December 2005 to review achievements, utilisation of funds and objectives of plan. Lessons learnt, strengths and weaknesses formed the basis of the plans for the year 2006.

Management of funds

Funds were shared with all RRs equally for implementing the operational plan 2005. These have been managed well and reported.
What has been planned but could not be realized and why?

Based on the operational plans 2005, most of activities that were planned have been achieved. Major activity that could not happen is the Pacific Breastfeeding Partners Forum, because of lack of sufficient understanding by the partners who would be collaborating in this activity. Dialogue is on with them and we hope to organise this event in June 2006. Under the Southeast Asia work, we could not develop the guidebook on complementary feeding using indigenous complementary foods. This was because the region discussed and decided to test the intervention as case studies in five countries and share their experience during the next regional meeting possibly in late 2006.

What was not planned but still performed and why?

IBFAN work is not always limited to the planned work, IBFAN responds like an emergency response to several national and international needs. For example we end up doing advocacy work, which means briefing the policy makers, ministers, UN officials etc. Every possible opportunity is used to achieve inputs into regional, international agenda. This makes IBFAN work truly rewarding in terms of long-term impact of our work. Preparation of different types of analytical documents for advocacy also consumes lot of our time. Here are some key activities performed during 2005 that were not planned.

1. Saving the IMS Act in India

India’s proposal to strike down its national legislation in the garb of modern integrated food legislation led to such a motivated response, which is unprecedented in building a very strong partnership between public interest groups, experts, and professional bodies to raise our voice. The Regional Coordinator who works in India spent almost 3 months for advocacy. The international response to the crisis was also a great one and seems to help develop India’s position on the issue. Ultimately the concerned minister announced for non-repealment of the IMS Act. This was a great moment for BPNI and IBFAN Asia Pacific.

2. Support to Kazakhstan

CARK Region-wide Conference on prevention of HIV infection in Infants-Almaty Kazakhstan March 1-3 2005

On request from the UNICEF Regional office CEE, CIS, Baltic States, Dr Arun Gupta, Regional Coordinator IBFAN Asia Pacific made a presentation at Almaty, Kazakhstan. These countries had already made a decision to promote replacement feeding (RF) to infants born to HIV positive mothers, keeping the UKRAINE initiative as a model. His presentation highlighted how to ensure that ‘Infant and Young Child Feeding Counselling’ is available to all women on an individual basis and all infant feeding options are provided to women who are tested HIV positive. This presentation is available on http://www.ibfan-asiapacific.org/img/almaty%20.pdf. It was also highlighted that protecting, promoting and supporting breastfeeding in general population continues and not undermined keeping the MDGs in mind.

3. Providing support to Tsunami and Earth Quake affected countries

Unfortunately, the region saw the Tsunami tragedy in December 2004 a huge earthquake in October 2005. The affected countries Sri Lanka, Indonesia, Pakistan and parts of India were provided support by providing them important documents on ‘Infant feeding in Emergencies’ by e-mail and also by post. These helped the relief organisations a lot by knowing how to monitor the baby food manufacturers and how to help the mothers with small babies and babies without mothers. Some funds were also used for essential supplies in areas of Tamilnadu where breastfeeding groups were working. Training of community workers for infant feeding counselling in Jammu and Kashmir (earthquake region) and South India was also facilitated.
Lesson Learnt

- Sub-regional activities like breastfeeding partner’s forums have been very successful in generating interest of countries and UN towards optimal infant and young child feeding. This is a potential activity to strengthen the network. South Asia Breastfeeding Partners Forum-2 is a perfect example of such partnerships. NEBPROF, the Nepal IBFAN Focal Point, organized this in Kathmandu. With several organizations like IBFAN, WABA, UNICEF, UNAIDS and Governments participating, the forum led to ten recommendations and call for action. It also led to each country making their own plan of action on IYCF for 2006.

- Wider partnerships with genuine partners without conflicts of interest and governments help make substantial progress e.g. in India, BPNI’s programme supported by national UNICEF and Government of India, has led to several positive steps forward in implementing the Global Strategy for Infant and Young Child Feeding. In more than 15 countries who were involved in the national assessment of Global Strategy for IYCF (using WBTi), all partners contributed to it. The process helps in creating ownership and finding solutions together. Action in Phillipines, Korea and New Zealand also clearly reflect that for heightened national actions there is strong need to build partnerships with like minded groups, NGOs, governemnst and others.

- Sharing of useful experience like WBTi with other regions is potentially a positive step for generating more action.

- Operational plans need to be made realistic and also reviewed periodically.
Future Plans

- Focus will be on further strengthening of the network in the sub regions and national level.
- Involving more countries and regions to participate in WBTi
- Organising a Pacific Breastfeeding Partners’ Forum- 1 in Fiji
- Organising South Asia Breastfeeding Partners Forum 3 in Afghanistan
- Documentation of Position statement on Infant feeding and HIV and initiate new actions on the issue.
